INTRODUCTION

The Nature and Concerns of Adult Education

Any discussion on Adult Education programmes offered by the Department should rightly commence with a consideration of the particular problems which fresh men face in the choice they have made to read Adult Education. These problems arise from the misconceived notion of Adult Education in Nigeria as being synonymous with adult literacy and night schools. It is thus regarded as a programme solely designed for the education of the old and aged adult illiterates. This misconception is largely attributable to the fact that developing countries including Nigeria are still battling to raise their level of literacy. It therefore follows that more attention is being paid to literacy in these countries to the neglect of myriad of other education programmes for adults. This has generated such feelings among students that have virtually made the name of adult education, an aberration.

Another plausible reason adduced for this conceptual misunderstanding is that adult education, as a discipline, is relatively new in most developing countries. It is thus argued that there is a misleading judgement of what adult education stands for, at the community, national and at the international levels when it is vigorously and judiciously pursued. Be that as it may, the scope of adult education touches on the social, economic and political lives of the people at the informal, non-formal and formal modes of its operation.

Inadequate knowledge of the scope and concerns of adult education certainly has an effect on the perception and attitude of the students of Adult Education towards the subject. Its definition must be linked with the United Nations Declaration of Development as a product of adult education. Thus, adult education is not only about literacy education, but also involves the whole of development activities of man. These include community development, health and family life education, workers' education, agricultural education, remedial and extra-mural studies, civic and political education, cultural and aesthetic education, environmental education, media education, and so on. It is today an important branch of education, having as it were, an equal recognition with other long established disciplines.

A Brief History of the Department of Adult and Non-Formal Education in the University of Port Harcourt

The Department of Adult and Non-formal Education started "de facto", as one of the five (5) divisions of the Institute of Education approved on 6th April 1987 by the Development Committee of the University. "De Jure", the Division started in February 1985 when Senate of the University gave her approval.

On 6th April, 1987 the Development Committee of the University gave approval for the unit of Adult and Non-formal Education to operate as one of the Divisions of the Institute.

In 1987, the Division of Adult and Non-formal Education started the certificate programme to prepare students for low level manpower in the field of Adult Education. This programme received the approval of the Joint Consultative Committee in Education (JCCE) within this period. Accordingly, the Certificate programme was the primary concern of the Institute's Division.

The Degree Programme: In 1990/91, the Division of Adult & Non-Formal Education received Senate's approval to introduce 4-year B.Ed Degree Programme in the areas of Arts, Social Sciences and Sciences teaching subjects as student minor areas of concentration, while Adult and Non-Formal Education remains their major area of concentration.

The Department took off initially with a population of 40 students in 1990/91 academic session. This first set of students graduated in 1995/96. Other subsequent sets of students followed till date. The programme content was broad based and the quality of the products was highly rated by the employers.

This B.Ed Programme has for three times been accredited by the National Universities Commission's Team and Officials in November 2002, February 2005 and November 2007.

Post-Graduate Programmes: High demand for more and higher quality adults in organizations, management, administration and disseminating knowledge at higher levels made the Department to introduce programmes leading to the award of the Master of Education (M.Ed) and Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D) degrees. These programmes took off in 200/2001 and 2004/2005 academic sessions respectively. These programmes cover specialization areas in Community Development, Environmental Adult Education, Distance Education and Literacy Education. The two programmes were approved by the Senate of the University in 2000/2001 academic year.

The above information reveals the status and the history of the Department of Adult & Non-Formal Education of the University of Port Harcourt.

B. The Bachelor of Education (B.Ed) Degree in Adult and Non- Formal Education

In collaboration with other Departments within and outside the Faculty of Education, the department of Adult and Non-formal Education offers a four-year programme leading to the award of B.Ed Degree with specialization in Adult and Non-Formal Education and one teaching subject as a minor area of concentration.

The Bachelor's degree programme lasts for four (4) years. It is open to qualified candidates who may apply through the Joint Matriculation Examination or have successfully completed the certificate programme in Adult Education.

The objective of the programme is to produce graduates who could design and implement Adult Education and community development programmes in the public and institutional sectors. The programme provides opportunities for resourceful young men and women who intend making Adult Education their career, and with whom lies the task of planning research and evaluation of Adult Education programmes.

In specific terms, the B.Ed Degree programme in Adult Education is meant to achieve the following objectives:

- i) To produce competent graduate teachers of Adult Education in intermediate and higher teacher training institution;
- ii) To provide trained Administrators of Adult Education programmes for Government Ministries and Mass Education agencies and other establishments concerned with the furtherance of Adult Education and rural/community development programmes in Nigeria;
- iii) To produce graduate teachers for the various specialized subject areas of instruction who would also be able to help in Adult and Non-formal Education programmes located within their places of work;
- Iv) To help to up-grade the knowledge and skills of serving personnel who already possess intermediate qualifications (Diploma and Certificate) in Adult Education in Nigeria.

Admission Requirements for the Degree Programme in Adult and Non-Formal Education (B.Ed)

The four-year degree programme in Adult and Non-formal Education is open to the following:

- i. Candidates with the West African School Certificate (WASC) or its equivalent with a minimum of five (5) credits (in the relevant subject areas of study) who shall have to pass the Universal Tertiary Matriculation Examination (UTMB) of the Joint Admission and Matriculation Board.
- ii. Candidates who obtained a credit level pass (60% and above) in the University of Port Harcourt Certificate programme in Adult and Non-formal Education or that of any other recognized university. Such candidates must in addition have credit in at least five (5) subjects and two (2) of these must be in the teaching subject area of the candidate's choice.

This category of candidates will be required to pass an interview organized by the Department of Adult and Non-formal Education.

Workload for Candidates Admitted into Adult and Non-Formal Education Under-Graduate Programme (B.Ed)

All candidates admitted into the Bachelor's Degree in Adult and Non-formal Education, irrespective of their teaching subject areas, are required to take a minimum course-load of 15 units and maximum course-load of 19/20 units per semester. This implies a minimum course-load of 30 units and a maximum of 38/40 units per session. For the four-year programme, a candidate is required to carry a minimum course-load of 120 units and a maximum course-load of 155 units. These courses include core courses covering general University Education courses (EDU), specialization courses in the Department of Adult and Non-formal Education and the candidate's subject area of choice.

Androgical Practice and the Industrial Attachment Programme

In both the certificate and degree programmes, the Department of Adult and Non-formal Education offers students brief periods of actual contact with an adult education learning centres, an industrial, or any other establishment in a similar field during which they practice in real life situation, what they learn in the university. In the certificate programme, this practical exercise is by way of six (6) weeks andragogical/teaching practice.

For the degree programme, there are two levels of Andragogical/teaching practice, practicum I and practicum II. Practicum I is for year II students while practicum II is for Year III students.

Details of these activities will be given in the course descriptions. Students who go for Industrial Training Programme (IT) are expected to produce a report of about 12 pages on their activities in the establishments where they worked.

Degree Classification

The degree shall be awarded with 1st, 2nd upper, 2nd lower, 3rd class honours or a pass degree. The cumulative grade point average for these classifications shall be as follows:

Class of degree	Cumulative grade point
1 st class	4.50	-	5.00
2 nd class (Upper Division)	3.50	-	4.49
2 nd class (Lower Division)	2.40	-	3.49
3 rd class	1.50	-	2.39
Pass	1.00	-	1.49
Fail	0.00	-	0.99

Continuation, Probation and Withdrawal

Continuation Requirement:

The continuation in the University is a cumulative grade point average (CGPA) of 1.00 at the end of every academic year. The maximum number of years students can stay in the university is 6 years, after which they either pass out or fail out.

Probation and Withdrawal from study

Probation is a status granted to a student whose academic performance falls below an acceptable standard. A student whose cumulative grade point average (CGPA) is below 1.00 at the end of a particular year of study earns a period of probation for one academic session. A student whose cumulative grade point average is below 1.00 at the end of one year probation, shall be required to withdraw from the programme.

Limitation of Registration

Students on probation may not register for more than 18 units per semester. The purpose of the restriction is to give the students a chance to concentrate on improving their performance and thus raising their CGPA.

Warning For De-registration

Students should be warned by the course advisers to each level of the Department if at the end of any semester their GPA falls below 1.00.

Repeating failed course unit(s)

Subject to the conditions for withdrawal and probation, a student must repeat the failed unit(s) at the next available opportunity, provided that the total number of credit units carried during that semester does not exceed 24, and the grade point earned at all attempts shall count towards the CGPA.

Duration of programme

The programme lasts for a minimum of four years and maximum of six years.

Auditing of courses

Students may attend a course outside their prescribed programme. The course shall be recorded in their transcript only if they have registered for it with the approval of the Head of the Department and the Dean of the Faculty and taken the prescribed examination. An audited course shall not be used in calculating the CGPA.

Academic advisers

Every level of students is attached to an Academic Adviser who is a member of the academic staff and who will advise the students on academic affairs as well as on personal matters.

Academic advisers are expected to follow their student's academic progress and provide counseling to them. See Appendix A for a list of Academic Advisers for 2012-2014 Sessions.

The Head of the Department assigns academic advisers to each level of students at the beginning of each session. Such academic adviser should give clear information on their doors or the departmental board(s) about appropriate times and places at which they will be available to students who wish to consult them.

Structure of the Degree

To be eligible for the award of the B.Ed Degree in Adult and Non-Formal Education, students must successfully complete the under listed core courses in Education: the specialization courses, as well as the elective and general university courses. In any event, each student must pass at least 120 credit units to obtain the B.Ed degree in Adult and Non-Formal Education. The structure of the degree programme with the attendant credit units is as shown under the Department's academic programmes.

Notice for all Post Graduating Students

Before any presentation of completed work is done by post graduating students either at the Faculty or Post Graduate School, the Departmental Graduate Board must have met and looked at what is to be presented by the students a week before presentation. The students who are to present must bring the copies of their work to be presented to the Graduate Board precisely the Thursday preceding the one scheduled for presentation at the Faculty or Post Graduate School. The decision was arrived at for quality control and therefore must be complied with. The Graduate Board also agreed that whenever we have proposed defence, all academic staff and Post Graduate students of the Department should be invited to be present.

That once students are admitted for Masters Degree, those to offer remedial courses must take and pass the courses first before registering for their Master Programme.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS

Registration of Courses

Each student is required to register for all courses he/she offers during the stipulated time which is usually within the first two weeks of resumption. Students are expected to pay their school fees first and collect the manual registration form from the department and proceed to any cyber café for on-line registration. Credit units of courses to be registered must not be less than 15 or more than 24 in a semester and must exceed 48 in a session. Students are required to register their carry-over courses first before their current year courses.

Fresh postgraduate students should first pay their school fees in the approved banks on campus and proceed to graduate school for collection of registration forms. All postgraduate courses are registered in the department.

Forgery

During registration of new/fresh students at both the certificate and freshman/undergraduate levels, original certificates or credentials used to secure admission will be verified by the Department to ascertain their authenticity. Again, at the end of each programme, i.e. one year certificate or four years of undergraduate, verification of certificates/credentials are strictly revisited before exit of students from the department. At any point a student is found guilty of forging any certificate/credential, transcript and any other official document, such a student shall be expelled from the department/university. Students of this department are therefore warned in their own interest, to desist from acts capable of demeaning the integrity of the Department of Adult and Non-formal Education.

Examination Malpractice

Any student in the Department of Adult and Non-formal Education at the certificate, undergraduate and post-graduate levels found guilty of examination malpractice of any sort shall be expelled from the department/university. For clarity, examination malpractice is defined as all forms of cheating which directly or indirectly falsify the ability of a student. In other words, examination malpractice denotes any form of fraud committed by a student in order to pass an examination which under normal circumstances he or she would not have passed. Its forms are various, ranging from cheating in the examination hall such as impersonation, smuggling into the examination hall/room scribes of already prepared answers, copying from each other or one another (collusion), oral or written communication between/amongst students during examination etc, to cheating outside the examination hall/room (see details on examination malpractice). An investigating panel shall be constituted by the Departmental Board to look into the case and recommend appropriate disciplinary actions.

Body of Research Report

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 Background to the study
- 1.2 Statement of the problem
- 1.3 Purpose and objective(s) of the study
- 1.4 Research questions
- 1.5 Hypotheses
- 1.6 Significance of the study
- 1.7 Scope of the study
- 1.8 Operational definition of terms (if any)
- 1.9 Assumptions (if any)

CHAPTER 2: REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

- 2.1 Theoretical Framework (i.e. related theories)
- 2.2 Conceptual review (i.e. essential concepts in the study)
- 2.3 Relevance of these concepts in the field of Adult Education (if any)
- 2.4 Recent studies on the topic (if any)
- 2.5 Summary of literature review

CHAPTER 3: METHODOLOGY

- 3.1 Research Design
- 3.2 Population of the study
- 3.3 Sample and sampling technique
- 3.4 Instrumentation
- 3.5 Validity and Reliability of Instrumentations

- 3.6 Method of Data collection (i.e conditions of research if it is experimental)
- 3.7 Method of data analysis

CHAPTER 4: PRESENTATION AND ANALYSIS OF DATA

- 4.1 Analyses of research questions
- 4.2 Test of research hypotheses
- 4.3 Summary of findings

CHAPTER 5: DISCUSSION OF FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATION(S)

- 5.1 Discussion of findings
- 5.2 Conclusion
- 5.3 Implications of findings
- 5.4 Recommendations
- 5.5 Limitations of the study
- 5.6 Suggestions for further studies

REFERENCES

All authorities / materials cited in the body of the work MUST be acknowledged in the reference section. American Psychological Association (APA) Format for referencing and citing authors and materials used in any study has been approved by the Department/Faculty. See your HOD for this format.

APPENDIX

The Appendix section should include among other things, the introductory letter which explains the purpose of the study and its instrument(s) to intended respondents. Other materials to be expected in the Appendix section include the instruments used, relevant tables, figures and statistical formulae or workings giving more detailed explanation of the research process and findings, but which would otherwise create confusion if included in the body of the work.

COLOUR OF PROJECT/THESIS/DISSERTATION

Approved colour of project/thesis/dissertation is black.

Note: It is suggested that under each chapter heading, there should be a brief opening paragraph of about 2 to 5 sentences to show what the chapter is all about. The opening paragraph should NOT be titled “INTRODUCTION” and should NOT be numbered as sub-heading.

iv Dedication

The author/student may wish to dedicate the work to someone, the Almighty God or relations as a mark of respect for special acknowledgement of the role played by the one or those so selected. The dedication statement is usually sharp, simple, clear, brief and attractive to read.

Example: This work is dedicated to my parents, Mr and Mrs Joe Uketui, who paved my way for higher education.

v Acknowledgements

The researcher here expresses his / her thanks or appreciation and gratitude to all who contributed significantly to the successful accomplishment of the researcher work. Generally, courtesy demands that God is acknowledged first, followed by the supervisor, then individuals who provided materials or read the work, gave support, provided data and typed the work.

vi Table of Contents

This covers every heading and sub-heading their respective paginations right from the preliminary section through all the chapters and their sub-headings as they appear in the body of the Thesis/Dissertation. The table content also includes reference and appendices.

Pagination ranging i-iv should be avoided. Only the exact page where the materials appear first should be indicated.

vii List of Tables

Tables used in the Thesis/Dissertation should be numbered according to the chapter(s) in which they appear. The tables with their numbers, titles and pagination should be listed on this preliminary page.

viii List of Figures

Figures (if any) used as graphic illustration in the research work should be listed on the preliminary page. The figures, which should (like the tables) be identified according to the chapters in which they appear, should be listed with clear indication of their numbers, titles and pagination.

ix Abstract

This is a summary of the entire work / study. For a thesis or dissertation, an abstract is usually not more than 200 words in length. Abstract should contain brief information on the investigated problem, methodology, population, sample of subject of the study, research design, instrumentation, method of data collection and analysis, findings, conclusion and most salient recommendation(s). An abstract is a single block paragraph which should be typed with single-line spacing and with the approved normal font. It should not be italicized.

Note:

Each of the serial numbers i – ix above should appear in a single page(s) of its own.

Students should use what is applied to them (project and B.Ed for undergraduate, thesis and M.Ed for masters, and dissertation and Ph.D for doctoral degree students).
